JOLT ENDORSES JANET DUDDING FOR TEXAS COMPTROLLER

Jolt Action proudly announces its official endorsement of Janet Dudding for Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts. We believe that her ample experience as a public accountant makes her the best fit to serve as Texas' chief financial officer, acting as a tax collector, chief accountant, chief revenue estimator and chief treasurer for Texas, as well as administrator for several state programs.

As a certified public accountant, Dudding has dedicated her career to auditing, accounting for, administering and investigating state and local governments and their grants, taxes, procurement, spending and reporting. She understands how the system works and how Texas should better utilize that system to improve the lives of Texans and their families..

“As we saw in the last legislative session, Texas is at a loss when we don't rely on experts to plan our financial trajectory,” said Jolt Action Political Specialist Jen Ramos. “As a certified CPA, Janet Dudding is the most qualified candidate to tackle one of the largest economies in the country and do so accurately and efficiently.”

Dudding says the State of Texas is overpaying for services that don't offer any real benefits to everyday Texans. She also believes Texas is allowing corporations to benefit from property tax giveaways, while everyday Texans suffer under rising property taxes.

If she is elected to office, she promises to do better and spend smarter. She believes there is incredible opportunity for economic growth in Texas, from healthcare to the environment, to creating jobs and new revenue streams. Her priorities include saving Texans $100 million by expanding comprehensive mental and physical health care; providing public school teachers equitable compensation packages and retirement options; helping bring broadband internet and its revenue stream to rural Texas; reducing methane emissions on state-owned land; making tax appraisals transparent; and, decriminalizing recreational-use marijuana.
