Find out when and where to vote!

Voting should be safe and easy. Once you have registered to vote, the next step is knowing when and where to vote. Your county will have a list of voting locations and hours. You can try google searching “[Your county name] voting locations November 2022.” If you live in one of the most populated counties in Texas, we have done a google search for you, and you can find your county’s polling locations through your county elections page below:

Bexar County
Collin County
Dallas County
Denton County
Fort Bend County
Hays County
Harris County
Tarrant County
Travis County
Williamson County

Voting Early

Early voting runs from October 24 to November 4, and early voting locations are typically open from 7 am to 7 pm. Still, hours may vary on weekends, and you should check your county website to confirm the hours at your early voting location.

Early voting is the best option because you will avoid election day lines, can vote at any early voting location in your county, and won’t be putting it off until the last minute.

Election Day Voting

If you vote on election day, make sure you get in line to vote before 7 pm. As long as you are in line by 7 pm, the polling location legally needs to stay open to let you vote.
